Where and How

To Spend Your Vacation

AT the end of a picturesque fifty-two mile drive from Montreal over Highway No. 11 or a pleasant two-hour train journey, via Canadian Pacific Railway, there greets you the famous Laurentian Mountain hostelry, known as The Alpine Inn of St. Margaret Country Club.

Built of natural pine logs, the Inn nestles in the beautiful valley of Ste. Marguerite in the heart of the Blue Laurentians, the oldest mountain ranges of the globe. The deep rustic brown of the logs, blends perfectly with the green pine and spruce forests and the silvery trunks of mountain birch that form a frame of natural beauty and marvelous charm. A covered verandah invites you to rest and enjoy the vista of gay flower beds and velvety green lawns that sweep down to the edge of rippling water that is cool and refreshing.

Interior Atmosphere

THE log walled lounge of the Inn has an atmosphere of rusticity and cozy comfort that will enchant you. Flanked at each end with a huge stone fireplace, you will want to nestle down in one of the many chesterfields or overstuffed chairs that dot the floor space, and answer that primitive instinct that revels in the flames of an open wood fire. The mezzanine which encircles this floor is the dining-room where a variety of fresh fruits and vegetables and choice viands, prepared by our expert chefs will tempt the most fastidious. Tables placed near the many windows, command a splendid view of mountain, forest and water. The sleeping wings recently augmented by a Habitant wing, provide clean, comfortable rooms, each with pure Laurentian spring water, and many with private bath or connecting shower. Real comfort without ostentation.

What To Do

IF you are fond of outdoor sports and recreations, here you will find them all in a setting that is unique and forceful in its appeal. A private sporty golf course, cut out of a forest of pine, spruce and balsam that calls for long forceful drives and short tricky shots — a splendid hard surfaced tennis court . . . . mounts from the Inn's stables to take you over wooded bridle paths . . . . nearby lakes and streams for the ardent fisherman . . . . a sandy bathing beach where you emerge with a glorious sun-tan and where a thrilling water chute and water wheel furnish no end of fun . . . . woodland walks through bits of dusky virgin forest. In the evenings, bridge . . . . ping-pong . . . . dancing to the strains of the Inn orchestra, or badminton played in the main lounge.

And there is the club lounge in the main building where you can enjoy club privileges in refreshments, or the popular log-walled tavern, where Goodfellows Get Together. The club house on the golf course furnishes the popular nineteenth hole.
